

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

- 5 Operator system algorithm with ability to aid strategic decision-making. Multi-Term Frequency analysis has many embodiments. It has the capability of recursiveness and feedback , and with the capacity to self-modify its operators, as well as having the capability to follow externally set rules, as contained in an axiom set, for example, or as custom imposed by a user. Operator system is set up in the context of basic axioms of a
- 10 particular field of application, which direct to an extent what the operators do. A preferred embodiment extensively dealt with shows its application as a decision aid over the field of patents and technical literature, helping to organize in a productive manner a mass of data, with useful scores and indices as output.

75